

Saplings

children's book publishing with a difference!

Who Needs Little Sisters Anyway?

by Brenda Cassidy

A charming, light-hearted story about a big sister, about to get a little sister!

Beautifully illustrated by Amanda Innes.

About the Author

Brenda has learned many lessons on the long road to finding herself, one of the greatest of which has been that we need to love ourselves and take the time to do the things we are passionate about.

Brenda has always been passionate about writing. It was one of the things she had put off for a long time, but is now bringing some of her ideas to life, and to be able to share them with others is one of her lifetime goals.

Brenda's greatest inspirations have come from her children and grandchildren.

Brenda Cassidy

A companion book to Who Needs Little Brothers Anyway?, published in 2014. Fifty percent of all net proceeds is split between Big Brothers Big Sisters of Guelph, the Children's Foundation of Guelph and Wellington, and the Wilson Education Resource Centre in Kitchener.

Wilson Education Resource Centre
"A community of vision, passion, learning, and growth sharing & learning together"

For information on our publishing programs visit www.otsaplings.com.
To place an order, visit www.ottbookstore.com