

Saplings

children's book publishing with a difference!

A Dragon Named Naturally Speaking written and illustrated by Barbara Lynn Andrew

Appealing to all ages, A Dragon Named Naturally Speaking tells the tale of the lovely results possible when an individual and a community come together to try to understand one another and to appreciate the gifts of someone who seems so very different.

Barbara Lynn Andrew

Barbara is a writer, artist, energy worker and Ordained Peace Minister who lives in Guelph, Ontario and loves it all!

Fifty percent of all net proceeds from the sale of this book are being divided between:

Children's Foundation of Guelph and Wellington, to support them in their mission to help children and youth reach their full potential through programs that support their intellectual, emotional and physical well-being.

Wilson Education Resource Centre, to support them in their commitment to fostering creativity and a love of reading and writing in our children and youth.

Wilson Education Resource Centre
"a community of students, parents, teachers, and friends sharing & learning together"